The shoe manufacturer Nike has started a program whereby people can donate their old tennis shoes to be ground up and remade into surfaces for playgrounds, basketball courts, soccer fields, and weight room floors. This is a great way to help Nike provide athletic fields for parks, schools, and recreational areas. Nike can be contacted at:

Nike's Reuse a Shoe Program please see website at <http://www.nikereuseashoe.com/>

Additional information on various charitable organizations that accept running shoes for charity can be found on the following websites.
